If you did not like sam & max, you won't like this either.. this episode, unlike the first, is somewhat forgettable. this is weakest episode so far and i hate to say it but, some parts of this episode are mediocre. the nations are okay and im glad homsar got more speech. just like the first episode.the part near the end is the most stressing part. which is.the board game. i'm not joking when i say this but, the homestarmy is overpowered. and no im not that guy who complains all the characters are OP. this is legitimate. only TWO characters would do something and the battle would be a draw. strong sad is overpowered with his sad and depressing quotes. strong mad is plain overpowered. homestar CANNOT have a single loss. it's sad that this is a constant thing so far in the episodes. let's hope the third, fourth and fifth episodes can prove me wrong.. I mean, it's Strong Bad. What's not to like? Just like the last episode, it's all point and click, in this episode you stick it to the man and set stuff on fire.. I mean, it's Strong Bad. What's not to like? Just like the last episode, it's all point and click, in this episode you stick it to the man and set stuff on fire.. I remember this one time when I checked my email. Dear Strong bad, Please come back to the internet full time, we miss you. Your friend with benefits, Miss galaxy I enjoyed all of these episodes, 1st was the best but the others had there moments.. Great game!!
